Dear Friends at Immanuel Bible,

I often think of and pray for our summer campers, and you probably do too. We ask God to do big things in their lives! Have you ever thought of the benefits that come to the college-age staff during the summer? The staff learn just as much or more than the campers do.

Summer staff gain a great deal of experience for future ministry and employment. Think of the skills in leadership, problem solving, collaboration, negotiation, and perseverance they will get during a summer of camp counseling. (Perhaps the most possible until they are raising a family of their own.) Think of the ability to handle God's Word well they will gain.

We pray that every child and teen who comes to Barakel will find that their counselor loves Jesus—loves Him more than any other comfort, or any other pleasure, or any other relationship. We are working hard right now to connect with the kind of college-age person who every day will hear singing in his or her ear: "Christ is glorious. Do not trifle with other things. Love Christ. Serve His church."

Thank you for investing in this work this month. Would you also join me in praying for the whole process of staff recruitment? It is of massive importance. Sending an email to Serve@CampBarakel.org is one way for people to get in touch with us about serving.

Yours for Christ-exalting camping,

Paul Gardner

Pray for some volunteer nurses to serve the campers in healthcare each week too. We love healthcare workers of every type.
